25X1 SECRET/CONTROL - U.S. OFFICIALS ONLY There is a Soviet unit of 250 to 300 men with four mortars in the General Magheru barracks (formerly Dimitri Cantemir). They wear shoulder boards with gray piping. The men of this unit are called "Miotka" by other Soviet troops. 25X1 7. The bridges in and around Lipova are guarded by soldiers from a Soviet unit of about 400 men stationed at 12 Mures Street (former cloister of Notre Dame). This unit does only guard duty. Their shoulder boards have pale blue piping 25X1 and the belt buckles are round and bear the Soviet star. 8. A Chinese unit of about 120 men arrived at the rest center at Marila, near Oravita, on 12 November 1952. This center is in the former sanitorium of 25X1 Dr. Ollinger (fnu). The rest center is guarded by Soviet troops wearing shoulder boards with blue piping. There is a Soviet unit of about 500 men in navy uniforms in the Admiral Nachimov barracks (former Navy barracks) at Galati, The barracks are at the southwest end of the city, at 165 Visinski Street (formerly Marinei Street): it is the only naval barracks in Galati that is occupied. 25X1 10. A Soviet troop unit of about 300 men was observed on 18 November 1952 in Giacova, at the former Hotel National, Piata Stalin 19 (formerly Piata Principala). Their shoulder boards were the color of the uniform, with dark blue piping and insignia of a double thunderbolt. There were three basket antennae on the roof of the building, and several telephone lines run from it. A radio car 25X1 stood in the inner court. A repair truck and two cargo trucks, stood in front of the quarters. At 1/100 hours a patrol car followed by a personnel car, left the quarters in the direction of Ghilad. In the patrol car were six Soviet soldiers with rolls of telephone wire. There is a sign post 25X1 pointing to the quarters; a red board with black lettering in Cyrillic characters and the number 386. Underground fortifications are being constructed along the Black Seacoast between Constanta and Mangalia. There are at least 12 batteries. 350 mm. in position there. 25X1 Torpedo tubes are installed at sea level elevation in the cliffs along the coast The whole sector is occupied by Soviet antiaircraft.artillery.

12. A Soviet warship arrived in the port of Constanta on 25 November 1952. The ship's name was covered up, so that its identity could not be established. Rumanian experts reported that it was a light cruiser of the LENINGRAD type with nine 150mm guns in three 3-gun turrets.

Troop movements continue in the Craiova area. The maneuvers ended officially on 17 November 1952. The problem of the maneuvers was as follows: "A strong Tito-Facist force, probably of division strength, makes an attack with the object of seizing the Rumanian oilfields at Ploesti in a surprise raid. Strong enemy units succeed in crossing the Danube and establishing a strong bridgehead near Calafat. The task of the troops is to hold the enemy in check until reinforcements arrive from the north, and then to annihilate the enemy in cooperation with the reinforcements." Maneuver headquarters were at Filiasi. It was reported in Craiova that the Rumanian troops engaged in the maneuvers got into such confusion that they had to be withdrawn. It is not known in
